

A government mandate requiring broadcasters and content providers to embed the broadcast flag (or other content control mark) within digital broadcast programming is neither necessary nor appropriate

Furthermore, the broadcast flag is not the appropriate technological model to be used.